Corwin Announces Jim Knight's High-Impact Instructional Coaching Institute: An Institute for Coaches, Leaders, and Teachers

LOS ANGELES, CA—February 10, 2017—Corwin, the premier publisher of professional resources that equip PreK-12 educators with innovative tools to improve teaching and learning, is excited to invite education leaders, coaches, and teachers to Jim Knight's High-Impact Instructional Coaching Institute: An Institute for Coaches, Leaders, and Teachers. The conference will be held at the Palm Event Center in Pleasanton, California on May 22, 2017.

Who should attend Jim Knight's High-Impact Instructional Coaching Institute?

- Principals
- Assistant and associate principals
- Instructional coaches
- Teachers and teacher leaders
- Building-level specialists

Why should educators attend Jim Knight's High-Impact Instructional Coaching Institute?

This Institute presents a proven framework for developing successful coaching practices. After nearly two decades of studying instructional coaching and working with more than 50,000 coaches worldwide, Jim Knight and his colleagues have identified the seven factors necessary for coaches to flourish, and have developed a coaching cycle to support that change. By attending the High-Impact Instructional Coaching Institute, participants will:

- Gain practical coaching skills for adult learners to use in their professional practice
- Interact with other coaches to gain new perspectives on strategies and tools
- Discover best practices implemented by coaches across the country
- Create an implementation plan for their schools and districts

Esteemed speaker Ann Hoffman will lead the institute to help attendees gain new insight into the seven factors that must be in place if coaches are to lead school reform efforts and maximize student learning. Registration for the High-Impact Instructional Coaching Institute is $299 for individuals.
