

Table 7.1 Engagement Strategies

Family Comfort Level and/or Access to Technology	Teacher Role	Family Role
No access to technology	Teacher uses #FormativeTech to collect formative assessment data and shares relevant and actionable information with families in a telephone call, note home, or face-to-face meetings.	Families check in periodically with their teacher, scheduling meetings to discuss their child's progress.
Access to text messages	Teacher shares information on student progress in a note home or on an online portal. They send a text message reminder to parents to encourage them to review this information.	Families know a special text message from their child's teacher means there is new information coming home (or posted online) about their child's progress in school.
Access to smartphones or web browsers	Teachers can share pictures of student work in a stream so families can view their child's progress and have a window into their day.	Families can set up alerts on their smartphones and receive notifications when new student work is posted.
