

Today's Webinar

- 45 minutes + Q&A
- Listen-only mode
- Submit questions via the chat box
- Recorded and shareable

Certification of attendance will be sent via email after the event. Please add info@k12.corwin.com to your email contacts to receive it.

Moderator

Dominique Smith

Director of Student Services,
Health Sciences High & Middle College

WEBINAR

Leading Instruction and Assessment from a Distance

CORWIN | nwea

Panelists

Douglas Fisher

John Hattie

Nancy Frey

Chase Nordengren

How have school closures of the spring and the proliferation of distance learning this fall impacted what teachers know about what their students are ready to learn?

What role does assessment play in understanding the needs of each student?

How has this changed in a remote learning environment?

Why is goal setting and defining outcomes with students more critical than ever?

How can leaders most effectively support this process for teachers?

How are leaders approaching high-quality instruction and providing opportunities for improvement?

What advice do you have for school leaders trying to manage it all?

© NWEA 2017

Q&A

Douglas Fisher

John Hattie

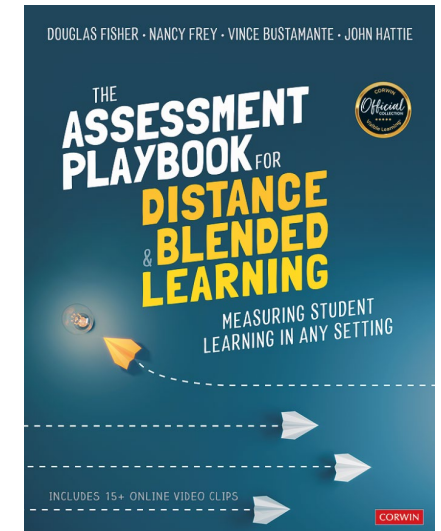

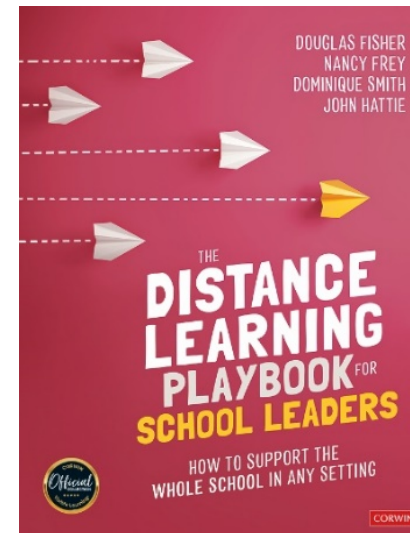

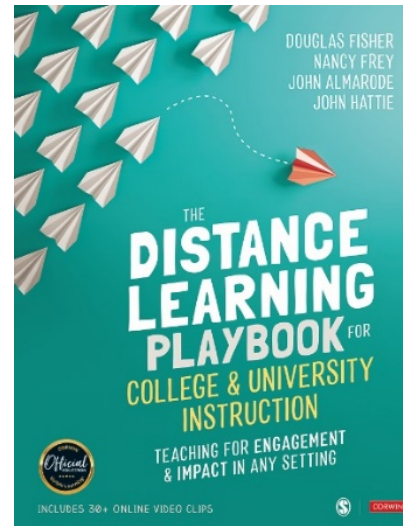

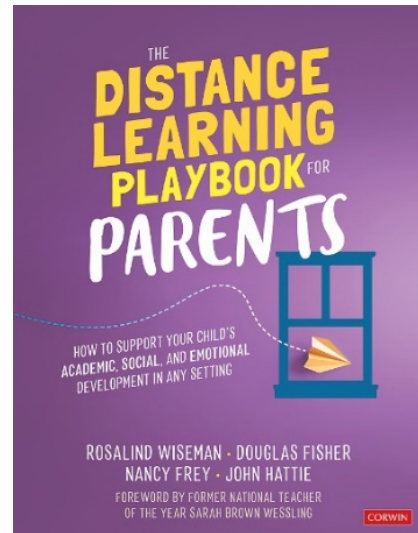

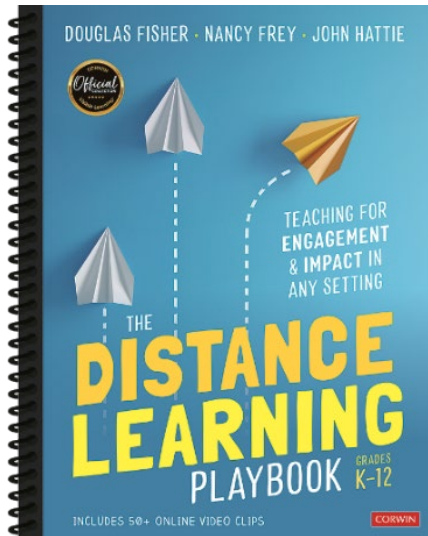

Nancy Frey

Chase Nordengren

The Distance Learning Playbook Collection

Visit www.corwin.com/distancelearning

Upcoming Virtual Institutes

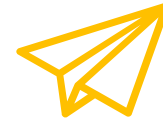

Assessment of Learning from a Distance

November 19
December 4

Distance Learning for School Leaders

November 10
December 1

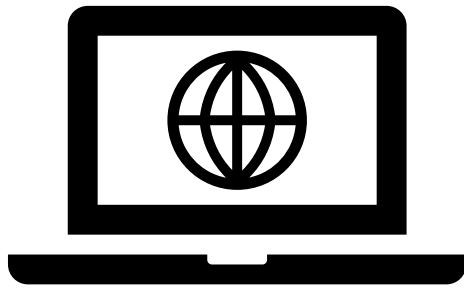

Distance Learning Leadership Series

6-session series starts
Nov 5

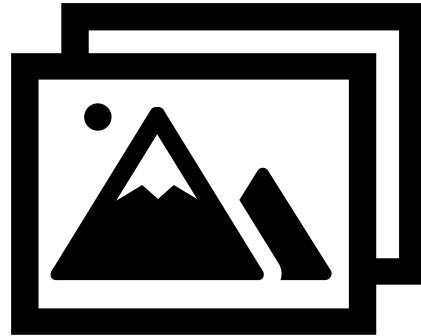

Learn more at www.corwin.com/institutes

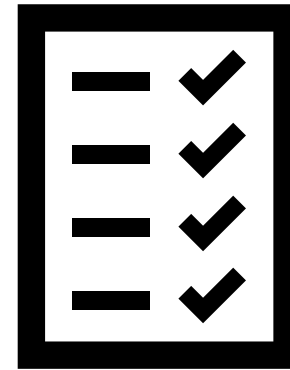

Thank you.

On-demand

Slides

Certificate

CORWIN

nwea